

Broken Walls in Ireland and the United Kingdom!

Broken Walls and a team of dancers are now winging their way home after spending several days in the Republic of Ireland and Northern Ireland. Accompanying Jonathan, Bill and Kris for this tour were Kelly Adkins and her daughter, Mikayla from Virginia; Carol Sullivan from Alaska; Dr. Casey Church and his son, Bahozhoni from New Mexico; and Rita Bear Gray from Washington State. It was truly a blessing for these wonderful dancers to be able to join us and help us to share the love, hope and peace that can only come from Creator.

We were warmly welcomed by Maurice Wylie, and Pastors Jack and Johnny McKee in Belfast for an evening of refreshing and preparing for the days ahead. The next morning, Jonathan, Rita, Carol and Casey did a television interview. (If I am able to secure a link to this interview, I will share it at a later date.)

The next day, we travelled to Bailieborough, Co Cavan in the Republic of Ireland to start our tour.

Maurice Wylie shares: "The first night was in Bailieborough and what a night it was! Fifteen people made decisions for Jesus. Bill took time to share what his family went through when he was in Primary School, how he was abused in all ways, and how God delivered them all. What a story!"

The next few days, we performed community concerts in Camlough, Rostrevor, Belfast with our final stop at Lisburn Primary School.

Bill shares: "We are seeing a great response to our ministry everywhere we go. We've led people to Jesus, prayed for deliverance, and encouraged people in their faith. God has used us to inspire the Irish to be Irish. God has used this amazing team in countless ways."

Jonathan shares: "We did a concert performance to a full house. The people seemed completely engaged with us. They danced, shouted and prayed with us. We did our last event here in Lisburn Ireland at Brownlee School. Our presentation was well received by the Principal, teachers and students alike. The Principal gave us a wonderful endorsement! Bill and the rest of the team did a great job in sharing our message. There's lots of talk about our return next year. The team and I have now departed for our various homes across North America. I am so proud of them and the love they carried to the people of Ireland. Walls were broken and hearts were changed. I was given many wonderful testimonies! Thank you so much to everyone for all your love, prayers and partnership!"

Carol shares: "It didn't take a lot of coaxing to get the full house dancing. People embraced the freedom that came through our Native American style of presentation. Our challenge to them was to embrace who they are and to give their gifts freely to others, to let the love flow."

Thank you for partnering with us as we travel to share the love and hope of Creator. We could not do this without your prayers, encouragement and financial support. You have a part in all that we do.

On November 16th and 17th, Broken Walls will be in Salamanca, NY for two days. On November 16th, we will be presenting our 'Committed to Life' suicide prevention assembly led by Bill in the local school. Of course, this will be a closed event. On November 17th, we will be presenting 'A Sacred Call to the Generations' community concert at Salamanca High School. The concert will start at 7:00pm and is open to the public. Please call Tim at (585) 378-6527 for more information.
